Music For Peace!

Concert for a peaceful, healthy and just world in the Hague

The Hague. On 14th June the pop legends Jennifer Rush and Rene Froger will appear on stage together in the Hague's Civic Centre Hall (Stateplein) in a Concert for Peace. This major concert is the cultural highpoint of the international Peace and Health Conference in the Hague.

The man behind both events, the well-known German scientist and doctor Dr. Matthias Rath, has this to say on the background to the concert, "A peaceful, healthy and just world is possible. Further wars, including nuclear war, can be avoided if we, the people of the world, raise our voices. The billion-dollar "disease business" and the interests of the pharmaceutical and oil companies are the real reason for disease and wars in our times."

This major concert and the health conference associated with it will bring these interest groups to public attention – and highlight genuine alternatives to them: for a peaceful, healthy and just world for this and future generations!

Jennifer Rush with her exceptional voice and the song "The Power of Love" produced one of the greatest hits of the eighties, storming to the top of the charts in Europe, South Africa and Australia with her hit single. And Jennifer Rush never lost her magical touch, going on to sell over 30 million records.

Rene Froger and his music are legendary in Holland and he is one of Holland's national artistes to find international acclaim way beyond the boundaries of his own country during his fifteen-year career.

Both artistes have been active campaigners for peace and social justice for years and accepted the invitation to the Hague with enthusiasm.

Concert for a peaceful, healthy and just world

A peaceful, healthy and just world is possible. Further wars, possibly leading to nuclear war, are preventable if we, the world's people, make our voices heard.

The billion-dollar "business with disease" and the interests of the pharmaceutical and oil companies are the heart of the problem. With this event we want to promote peace and health. And also celebrate together: for our own sake and for the next generation.

In accordance with the wishes of the organising group, all takings from the concert will be used for charitable purposes.
