Why Sarkozy and Bush Need World War III

The Known Political Stakeholders of the Pharmaceutical Drug Cartel:

Introducing a New Stakeholder of the Drug Cartel: Nicolas Sarkozy

Today and tomorrow, French President Nicolas Sarkozy is visiting the USA, presenting himself as a 'friend of America' but the reality is much more sobering. His visit serves to plan the first nuclear war in the history of mankind. The people of America and the world deserve to know, who is Mr. Sarkozy?

WHO IS SARKOZY?

In 2004 Sarkozy, then French Minister of Finance, used his political and financial clout to coerce the $ 80 billion acquisition of pharmaceutical drug giant Aventis by the French drug dwarf Sanofi. One of the first drugs the newly created concern Sanofi-Aventis announced to the world as a 'blockbuster' was Zimulti (rimonabant), allegedly fighting obesity. In June 2007, the FDA rejected sales of this drug in the US because of its serious side effects – including suicides. The share price of Sanofi-Aventis dropped 20% and class action lawsuits will inevitably follow, threatening the survival of the company.

Only three months later the political patron of the company, Sarkozy, announced WWII to the world. A nuclear holocaust and global martial laws would allow him to declare the drug companies as war essential and 'untouchable.'

THE SARKOZY/BUSH PLAN FOR WWII

Unfortunately, Zimulti, Baycol and Vioxx are not the exception, they are the rule. While promising health, the pharmaceutical investment business is based on the continuation of diseases as multi-billion dollar markets for patented drugs. With the people of the world becoming increasingly aware of this fraud, the drug cartel has brought politicians to power that organize the survival of this trillion dollar fraud at all costs – including a nuclear holocaust.

Not surprisingly the drug industry was the single largest donor of the Bush election campaigns and the previously ousted architect of the ill-fated war in Iraq, Donald Rumsfeld, had been the highest decorated pharmaceutical executive in US history.

PREVENTING WWII

Sarkozy and Bush are declaring WWII to the world under questionable pretexts. One thing, however, is certain: the beneficiaries of a nuclear holocaust are not the people of the world, but the corporate interests that brought Sarkozy and Bush to power.

The aim of this publication is to expose the motives behind the Sarkozy/Bush preparations for WWII – and by their very revelation make sure that they can no longer be implemented.

Over the past years, Dr. Rath exposed the pharmaceutical investment business as the main beneficiary of the Iraq war and its escalation into WWII. His public warnings were a contributing factor that such plans – until now – could not materialize:

Recently, he broke the world's six decades of silence and published the corporate background to WWII, the Nuremberg Tribunal against the giant oil and drug cartel IG Farben, with the goal to help prevent WWII:
